986033-001 University of Toronto Senate resolution regarding John Alexander Boyd

2000070-001 Letter from John A. Macdonald to John Alexander Boyd

2000070-002 University of Toronto English Poem Prize, "The Atlantic telegraph", read in the University Hall of Convocation, June 8th, 1859
John Alexander Boyd was born on April 23rd, 1837, in Toronto, Ontario. He graduated from Upper Canada College in 1856, and after attaining a BA in 1860 and an MA in 1861 from the University of Toronto, was admitted as a student-at-law by the Law Society of Upper Canada. He articled with David Breakenridge Read at the law firm of Read, Leith and Read before his call to the Bar in 1863. Boyd practised with Read until 1870, when he joined the firm Blake, Kerr, and Bethune. From 1870 to 1872, he was a Master in Ordinary of the Ontario Court of Chancery. He became Chancellor of the High Court of Justice, Chancery Division, in 1881, and would serve in that position until the office was abolished in 1916. During his career, Boyd received honourary LLDs from the University of Toronto (1889) and McMaster University (1913), and later a DCL from Trinity University (1902). He received a knighthood in 1899. Boyd died on November 23rd, 1916.
