Frederick Barber Goodwillie was born on March 17th, 1873, in Georgetown, Ontario. His father, Charles Stuart Goodwillie, was a prominent lawyer in the town. He attended the University of Toronto, and was admitted to Osgoode Hall Law School in 1894. Goodwillie was called to the Bar of Ontario in 1897, and practiced law with his father in Georgetown until his father's death in 1903. Following his father's death, Goodwillie moved to Melfort, Saskatchewan, where he established a law practice. During the First World War, Goodwillie served with the 11th Battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force and later with the Cyclists Corps. Goodwillie died on July 18th, 1951.
